While Taylor University publishes program information and materials, the learner is ultimately responsible to assure his/her academic program fulfills all graduation requirements. The university reserves the right to withdraw a previously awarded degree if the university subsequently determines that the degree requirements were not met appropriately.

Taylor University's residential degree programs have specific curriculum requirements for which credit hours earned through Taylor University Online may or may not apply. If planning to attend Taylor University and enroll in a residential degree program, contact the campus admissions office for further guidance.

History

Taylor University was founded in 1846, and is one of the oldest evangelical Christian colleges in America. Conceptualized with the conviction that women as well as men should have an opportunity for higher education, Taylor University began as Fort Wayne Female College in Fort Wayne, Indiana, and then became Fort Wayne College. Fort Wayne College became coeducational in 1855. In 1890, the school merged with the Fort Wayne College of Medicine and changed its name to Taylor University in honor of Bishop William Taylor. In 1893, Taylor University moved to Upland, Indiana, because of the population boom in the central part of the state.

Bishop William Taylor became a symbol of the values and ideals of the college. William Taylor was an energetic missionary evangelist possessed with unusual vitality of commitment and devotion. His voluminous writings, including many books on preaching and missions, and his extensive worldwide missionary endeavors resulted in him being the first lay pastor to be named a Bishop of the Methodist Church.

Taylor University offered its first distance learning course in 1938. This course was taught through correspondence via the postal service and was offered for the purpose of academic enrichment and personal growth. The distance learning program changed names numerous times over the years to reflect technology upgrades and the mission of the University before receiving its current name, Taylor University Online, in 2008.

As we enter each new school year, the institution's administration, faculty, staff, and students stand committed to our heritage of Christian commitment and academic excellence.

A Christian Liberal Arts College

Taylor University is an evangelical, independent, interdenominational Christian liberal arts college where faith, living, and learning are integrated. Taylor University serves over 2,000 students at the Upland campus and over 750 through Taylor University Online courses, certificates and degree programs.

Academic pursuits at Taylor are rigorous, demanding imagination, dedication, and integrity from both students and faculty. As a Christian institution, Taylor University has concerned, competent faculty who recognize that all truth has its source in God. The students' quest for truth begins with this conviction and relates to all aspects of the liberal arts curriculum.

Taylor University Online is the virtual campus of Taylor University, emphasizing the integration of faith and learning through distance education. Taylor has a long tradition of delivering quality Christian higher education to students around the world and established Taylor University Online for the purpose of providing Christ-centered learning opportunities to individuals wherever they live and work.

Mission, Purposes and Anchor Points

The mission of Taylor University is to develop servant leaders marked with a passion to minister Christ's redemptive love and truth to a world in need. In order to advance this mission, Taylor University is committed to the following purposes:

- To provide whole-person education, involving students in learning experiences imbued with a vital Christian interpretation of truth and life which foster their intellectual, emotional, physical, vocational, social, and spiritual development.

- To offer liberal arts, professional and lifelong education based upon the conviction that all truth has its source in God, and that being biblically anchored, the Christian faith should permeate all learning leading to a consistent life of worship, servant leadership, stewardship, and world outreach.
- To create specific experiences wherein the integrative focus of a Christian liberal arts education is clarified, personalized and applied.
- To contribute to the advancement of human knowledge and understanding and serve the evangelical Christian church and the larger (public) community for the glory of God.
- To foster a biblical model of relationships that acknowledges both unity and diversity of the followers of Christ within a covenant community and which can be evidenced in a continuing lifestyle of service to and concern for others.
- To maintain and foster appropriate and effective support services that enable maximum program effectiveness throughout the University.

Anchor Points

- Biblically Anchored
- Christ Centered
- Faith Learning Integrated
- Liberal Arts Grounded
- World Engaging
- Whole Person Focused
- Servant Leader Motivated

Statement of Faith

To more explicitly define the meaning of Christian higher education as used in the Articles of Incorporation and the methods and policies by which the proposed results are to be achieved through the University or any affiliated educational institution under the control of the University, the following statements of belief and practice are set forth:

Taylor University is firmly committed to the lordship of Jesus Christ and evangelical Christianity. To ensure the central place of Christian principles in the philosophy and life of the University, the trustees, administration, faculty, and staff believe:

- There is one God, eternally existent in three persons—Father, Son, and Holy Spirit—the ultimate Creator and Sustainer of all things in heaven and on earth.
- The Holy Bible is the only inspired, authoritative written word of God, progressively revealing God's will for humankind.
- Jesus Christ is the living word of God who made known and carried out God's plan of redemption through His virgin birth, sinless life, atoning death, bodily resurrection, and ascension, and who will return in power and glory.

- The Holy Spirit is present in the life of the believer, testifying to the lordship of Christ and enabling the believer to live a godly life.
- Humankind, though uniquely created in God's image, rebelled and stands in need of redemption.
- God graciously extends salvation to anyone who comes to Christ by faith.
- The Church is the community of believers who express their unity in Christ by loving and serving Him, each other, and all people.

Implementation of the Mission and Purposes

Taylor University carries out its mission and purposes through the operation of its educational programs centered on the campus in Upland, Indiana. Graduate program centers are located in Indianapolis and in Fort Wayne, Indiana. The offices of Taylor University Online and WBCL are located in Fort Wayne, Indiana. All Taylor University programs hold to a Christian worldview and are characterized by the integration of faith and learning.

The Upland campus serves Christian men and women in a community that consists largely of traditional college students living in a residential campus setting and pursuing baccalaureate and master's level degree programs.

Taylor University Online Vision and Mission

To extend the mission of Taylor University worldwide by offering quality Christian higher education using alternate modes of delivery.

To provide quality Christian higher education using innovative methods that enable students to accomplish their educational goals, advance their careers, and minister Christ's truth and love to a world in need.

The Life Together Covenant

Taylor University is a community of Christians intentionally joined together for academic progress, personal development, and spiritual growth. We seek "to develop servant leaders marked with a passion to minister Christ's redemptive love and truth to a world in need." Together we seek to honor Him by integrating biblical faith and learning while our hearts and lives embrace the process of maturing in Christ.

The Taylor community consists of those who, in furtherance of our mission, are living together in intentional, voluntary fellowship, aware that we are called to live our lives before a watching world. Although primarily centered on the Upland campus, this community is not defined by geography, but rather by active engagement in the Taylor educational mission.

The Life Together Covenant (LTC) identifies the expectations for living in community as we seek to fulfill our mission. It is impossible to create a community with expectations totally acceptable to every member. Nevertheless, certain responsibilities and expectations must be specified to assure orderly community life. When individuals join the Taylor community, they freely and willingly choose to take upon themselves the responsibilities and expectations outlined in this covenant. The University Expectations are not intended to measure spirituality or to promote legalism. Nevertheless, Galatians 5:13-14 reminds us that while we were called to be free, our freedom is best used when we serve one another in love. (Romans 14; 1 Corinthians 8; 10:23-33)

A foundational support for the Life Together Covenant is the Taylor University Statement of Faith. The Statement of Faith affirms that the Bible is the inspired and authoritative word of God, and it provides the essential teachings and principles for personal and community conduct. The Statement of Faith also affirms the presence of the Holy Spirit in every believer; God, through the Holy Spirit, places in every believer the inner resources and attributes to minister to others through supportive relationships.

Responsibilities for Loving God, Others and Self

We glorify God by loving and obeying Him. Because we are commanded to love one another, relationships and behaviors which reflect such love confirm our allegiance to God and are glorifying to Him. (Matthew 22:36-40; John 15:1-14; Romans 15:5-6)

Living in daily fellowship with other Christians is a privilege and an expression of God's will and grace. In recognition of this privilege, great value is placed on the quality of relationships in our community. We acknowledge that we are living in a fellowship where we are dependent on and accountable to one another. The New Testament word for fellowship is koinonia, which is translated as a close mutual relationship, participation, sharing, partnership, contribution, or gift. Members, therefore, are encouraged to seek opportunities to demonstrate koinonia. (1 Corinthians 12:12-31; Ephesians 4:1-6)

All persons are created in the image of God, and each person is known by God and knit together in the womb with intentional design. God's attention to creative detail is uniquely applied in each person in whom is given the capacity to love God with heart, soul, mind and strength. The commandment to love our neighbor as ourselves reminds us of our potential to minister to others while at the same time recognizing our own need for care and support. (Psalm 139:13-14; Mark 12:29-31; 1 Corinthians 6:19)

Responsibilities for Community

Within our community the greatest expression of fellowship and the highest principle for relationships is love. Since God first loved us, we ought to demonstrate love toward one another. (1 John 3:11, 16, 18; 4:7-21)

For the purpose of our community we have identified the following specific expressions of love as being among the most desirable:

- Building Up One Another: We expect each member of the community to strive consciously to maintain relationships that support, encourage and build up one another. (Romans 15:1-2)
- Making Allowance for One Another: Because of our fallenness, difficulties in relationships do occur. In such cases we are to respond with compassion, kindness, humility, gentleness and patience, making allowance for each other and forgiving one another. (Colossians 3:12-13)
- Caring for One Another: We are responsible to come alongside those experiencing grief, discouragement, illness, tragedy or other personal trials. Expressions of bearing one another's burdens include comfort, encouragement, consolation, and intercession. (Galatians 6:2)
- Respecting One Another: Because of the God-given worth and dignity of persons, each member of the community is expected to be sensitive to the image of God created in every person. Therefore, discrimination against others on the basis of race, national origin, age, gender or disability is not acceptable. Any kind of demeaning gesture, symbol, communication, threat, or act of violence directed toward another person will not be tolerated. (Colossians 3:11-14; 1 John 3:14-18)

- Speaking the Truth in Love: A community such as ours can be strengthened by speaking the truth to each other with love. Problems in relationships and behavior can be resolved constructively by confronting one another in an appropriate spirit. If the welfare of the one being confronted is paramount and if the confronter is motivated by and acting in love, the process can produce growth. (Ephesians 4:15)
- Reconciliation, Restoration, and Restitution: Healing broken relationships is necessary for a healthy community. When relationships have been harmed, regardless of the reason, individuals are expected to reach out to one another, forgive one another, restore relationships and make restitution. (Matthew 5:23-24; 18:15-17)

Responsibilities for Individual Attitudes and Behavior

- Attributes of the Heart: Scripture gives us mandates for daily living through the Ten Commandments and the Sermon on the Mount. (Exodus 20:2-17; Matthew 5-7) In addition, Scripture teaches that certain attributes are available to individuals through the Holy Spirit. These attributes include: “love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness and self-control. Against such things there is no law.” (Galatians 5:22-24 NIV) This “fruit of the Spirit” is to be sought, encouraged and demonstrated in our relationships. We are also called to live lives characterized by peace and holiness. (Hebrews 12:14)

In contrast to encouraging these positive attributes of the heart, Scripture condemns injustice and attitudes such as greed, jealousy, pride, lust, prejudice and hatred. Although these attitudes are sometimes difficult to discern, they can hinder relationships with God and others and lead to unacceptable behavior. (Galatians 5:19-21; Ephesians 4:31; Micah 6:8)

- Prohibited Behaviors: Certain behaviors are expressly prohibited in Scripture and therefore are to be avoided by all members of the community. They include theft, lying, dishonesty, gossip, slander, backbiting, profanity, vulgarity, crude language, sexual immorality (including adultery, homosexual behavior, premarital sex and involvement with pornography in any form), drunkenness, immodesty of dress and occult practice. (Mark 7:20-23; Romans 13:12-14; 1 Corinthians 6:9-11)
- Academic Integrity and Truthfulness: As a Christ-centered University community we apply biblical responsibilities for honesty to all forms of academic integrity. Plagiarism is forbidden; we expect truthfulness and fidelity to be expressed in every learning context. (Luke 16:10; Ephesians 4:25)
- Submission to Civil Authority: In keeping with scriptural admonitions to bring ourselves under the authority of government, members of the Taylor community are expected to uphold the laws of the local community, the state and the nation. An exception would be those rare occasions in which obedience to civil authorities would require behavior that conflicts with the teaching of Scripture. On such occasions, each individual would submit voluntarily to the penalty for his or her behavior. (Romans 13:1-7) Behavior resulting in arrest on or off campus is subject to review within the University’s disciplinary procedures.

University Expectations

In addition to subscribing to the section on Biblical Responsibilities, members of the Taylor University community voluntarily commit themselves to the following expectations of behavior. This commitment results from the conviction that these expectations serve the common good of the individual and the institution. These expectations are not set forth as an index of Christian spirituality, but rather as values and standards of the Taylor community and guidelines that serve to preserve the ethos of the campus communities.

Furthermore, they reflect our commitment to helping each member of the community grow in maturity and in the ability to make wise choices. Because of the importance of trust and responsibility to one another, violations of these expectations are regarded as a serious breach of integrity within the community. The following expectations apply to all members of the campus communities: the faculty, staff, and students of Taylor University:

- Worship: Corporate worship, prayer, fellowship and instruction are essential for our community. Members of the community are encouraged to participate in the life of a local church.
- Lord's Day: Members of the community are to observe this day as a day set apart primarily for worship, fellowship, ministry, and rest. While activities such as recreation, exercise, and study may be a part of the day, "business as usual" relative to University programs and services will not be sanctioned or encouraged.
- Respect for the Property of Others: Members of the community are expected to respect the property of others, including University property, private property on and off campus, and public property. The intellectual property of others is also to be respected.
- Illegal and Legal Substances: Taylor University prohibits the possession, use or distribution of illegal substances and the abuse or illegal use of legal substances, including prescription and over-the-counter medication.
- Tobacco: Recognizing that the use of tobacco is injurious to one's physical health, members of the campus communities will not possess, use, or distribute tobacco in any form on or off campus. In addition, our campuses are smoke free.
- Alcoholic Beverages: The community recognizes the potential risk to one's physical and psychological well-being in the use of alcoholic beverages. It also recognizes that use of alcoholic beverages can significantly and negatively impact the community. Accordingly, faculty, staff, and students will refrain from the use of alcoholic beverages. Alcoholic beverages are not served at any University functions or programs on or off campus.
- Gambling: The exchange of money or goods by betting or wagering is viewed as an unwise use of God-given resources and is not acceptable in any form.
- Entertainment and Recreation: The University expects its members to use discretion and discernment in their choices of entertainment and recreation (some examples include media, Internet usage, and games). Each year, Student Development may sponsor a limited number of on-campus dances for the campus community. The University also considers the following forms of dance as acceptable for the campus community: sanctioned folk dances, dances that are designed to worship God, dancing at weddings, and the use of appropriate choreography in drama, musical productions and athletic events. In order to preserve and enhance our intentional community, other social dancing is not permitted on or away from campus. Activities and entertainment that are of questionable value or diminish a person's moral sensitivity should be avoided. Consideration for others and standards of good taste are important, and all activities should be guided by this principle.

Application

The University affirms that the Biblical Responsibilities and University Expectations outlined herein lead to responsible citizenship and a positive and healthy lifestyle, and they support the fulfillment of the University mission.

While members of the community are encouraged to follow the principles of this LTC throughout the year, it is specifically applicable for students while they are actively engaged in the educational mission (Fall Semester, Interterm, Spring Semester, and Summer Term, including Thanksgiving and spring breaks) or are representing Taylor in any off-campus events. For employees, it is specifically applicable during the periods of their service or employment contracts.

Conclusion

The book of Colossians provides an appropriate summary of the goals for our community:

“Therefore, as God's chosen people, holy and dearly loved, clothe yourselves with compassion, kindness, humility, gentleness and patience. Bear with each other and forgive one another if any of you has a grievance against someone. Forgive as the Lord forgave you. And over all these virtues put on love, which binds them all together in perfect unity. Let the peace of Christ rule in your hearts, since as members of one body you were called to peace. And be thankful. Let the message of Christ dwell among you richly as you teach and admonish one another And whatever you do, whether in word or deed, do it all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through him.” (Colossians 3:12-17 NIV)

Taylor University Online is a member of the Indiana College Network and Indiana Council for Continuing Education.

Christian College Consortium

To provide a variety of professional and academic experiences for faculty and students, Taylor maintains membership in the Christian College Consortium uniting thirteen Christian liberal arts colleges with programs similar to those of Taylor. Of special interest to Taylor students are the opportunities for semester visiting student options on the other campuses and cooperative off campus/international programs. Included in the consortium are: Asbury University, Bethel University, George Fox University, Gordon College, Greenville College, Houghton College, Malone University, Messiah College, Seattle Pacific University, Trinity International University, Westmont College, and Wheaton College.

Council for Christian Colleges and Universities

Taylor University is also a member of the Council for Christian Colleges and Universities, a Washington, D.C.-based organization. Founded in 1976 with 38 members, the Council has grown to over 100 members in North America and over 60 affiliate institutions in North America and around the world. The CCCU's primary focus is to help its member institutions pursue excellence through the effective integration of biblical faith, scholarship, and service.

The Council sponsors semester programs for qualified upperclassmen from its member schools. These offerings include the American Studies Program in Washington, D.C.; the China Studies Program; the Contemporary Music Center at Martha's Vineyard; the Latin American Studies Program based in San Jose, Costa Rica; the Los Angeles Film Studies Center; the Middle East Studies Program in Cairo, Egypt; the Oxford Honours Programme; the Russian Studies Program in Moscow, St. Petersburg, and Nizhni Novgorod; and the Washington Journalism Program in Washington, D.C.

Taylor University Online Structure

Classification of Students

Taylor University Online serves two distinct groups: guest and program students. The information contained in the Academic Policies applies to both groups unless specifically marked as applying to only one group or the other.

- Guest student: Individual seeking to take courses from Taylor University Online for transfer to other institutions or for one's own educational benefit who is not seeking a degree from Taylor. No formal application is required to enroll in courses. A student who pursues a certificate from Taylor University Online is also classified as a guest student.
- Program student: A person who has fully met the requirements for admission to a program with Taylor University Online and has enrolled in courses to meet program requirements. Included in this classification are students pursuing associate degrees, bachelor degrees and graduate programs.

Course Format

Because Taylor University Online serves two distinct types of students—guest students and program students—two different course formats are utilized. These formats are ISO (Independent Study Online) and CSO (Collaborative Study Online).

Guest students take only ISO courses. Contingent on the specific program requirements, program students also take ISO courses. In order to offer the utmost in flexibility, the ISO format is open enrollment-based. Open enrollment allows registration on any business day. The student has four months to complete the coursework. Students may complete a course as soon as they have met the expected learning results, as outlined within the course, and within four months from the registration date. All course requirements including reports, papers, and examinations must be completed and submitted before a final grade will be issued. ISO courses do not have due dates for the individual assignments (there is a due date only for the entire course). Within this format, there is no peer-to-peer interaction. Therefore, an emphasis is placed on use of interactive electronic resources, and interaction between student and instructor.

CSO courses are taken by students pursuing a Bachelor of Business Administration degree. These courses are offered only within traditional semester-length terms. They include peer-to-peer interaction, and may include group projects.

Courses are facilitated through Blackboard™, an online management system which stores all of the course information including the syllabus, instructor information, assignments, etc. Blackboard is accessed through myTaylor, a password protected website for Taylor students.

Time Commitment

The standard formula to determine the time investment for a class is to multiply the number of credit hours by 3, and that total by 15 (which represents a traditional 15 week semester). For example, a 3 credit hour course will require about 135 total hours of work – 9 hours a week over 15 weeks.

Tuition

Undergraduate tuition is $350 per credit hour.

Communication

The university communicates to students most often via email. Professors will also respond to students via the email address listed in Blackboard. Students must be sure to notify the Taylor University Online office when an email address changes in order for it to be updated in the system.

Taylor University Online has established a general email address (online@taylor.edu) to facilitate contact with the appropriate staff or department to assist students with course and program enrollment, financial matters, academic concerns and advisement, etc. As such, the department fields literally hundreds of emails each week from students and inquirers. It is requested that students do not include any staff or department email address for the purpose of sending or forwarding personal newsletters, pictures, humor, or virus warnings. If a student sends a personal prayer request of an urgent nature the Online office staff will, of course, count it a privilege to receive it and pray over it. The University is protected by a system-wide antivirus program that is updated daily so there is no need to warn us of any new virus.

Requesting a Syllabus for Review

Students may request syllabi be sent to their academic advisor or university registrar for review to determine transferability to the student's home institution. Syllabi will not be given to the student prior to registration for the course. To request a copy of a syllabus for an advisor or registrar, a student must contact the Taylor University Online office with the applicable contact information.

Guest Courses

Students are considered guests when they are not enrolled in a Taylor University program. Some examples of guest students include:

- Students who desire to take courses at Taylor for the specific purpose of transferring the credit earned to another institution.
- High school students who wish to take college courses for dual credit and apply these hours to the college of their choice at a later date.
- Individuals who wish to take courses for the purpose of self-improvement.

Academic Procedures and Policies

Enrollment Procedure (Note: The words “registration” and “enrollment” are used synonymously.)

The enrollment procedure is a two-step process. The first is to submit an enrollment form, which is completed through the Taylor University Online website. The form is accessed by clicking the “enroll now” button. The first page of the form collects general contact information as well as the course selection. The student is then redirected to a secure website to enter payment information, which is the second step of the procedure.

Tuition must be paid in full at the time of registration. Accepted forms of payment include check, money order, and VISA, MasterCard, and Discover credit cards. A student who submits an enrollment form with no payment information or whose payment fails will not be enrolled. In either case, Taylor University Online will contact the student.

Upon submitting the enrollment form and payment information, the student will receive course access information via email within three business days. The date the enrollment procedure is completed serves as the official start date of the course. The student will have four months from that date to complete the course.

Consortium Agreements

Consortium agreements originate in the financial aid office of the student's home institution and are agreements that tuition for a Taylor University Online course will be paid by the student's home institution. However, the student pays Taylor University Online directly upon registration, and then arranges to be reimbursed by his/her home institution. The course would be added to the semester cost at the student's home institution as well as his or her financial aid package.

Taylor University Online accepts consortium agreements from all other institutions. A student should contact the financial aid department of his or her institution for more information.

Term Dates

Guest student registration dates will appear on the transcript as the actual registration and due date of his/her course.

Course Numbers

The three letters (e.g. BIB) indicate the discipline or category in which a course is placed. The set of three numbers (e.g. 110) indicate the level of the course:

- 000 Level Courses – Remedial courses; generally do not carry transferable credits to other institutions
- 100-200 Level Courses – First and second year college courses
- 300-400 Level Courses – Upper division courses; require advanced writing, cognitive and critical thinking skills
- 160/360 – Customized, independent study courses

Textbooks

Textbooks are not included in the cost of tuition. Textbooks and other required course materials are listed on the Taylor University Online website under the "course catalog" section. While the website links to Amazon, students are welcome to purchase materials from the vendor of their choosing.

Examinations

The majority of examinations are completed online through Blackboard and do not require a proctor. However, if a proctor is required, the student is expected to choose a proctor. The proctor must be a pastor, librarian, or an educator and cannot be a relative. Examination request forms are included in the materials for each course that requires proctored exams. Please complete the form and submit it to TU Online. Allow 5 business days for the proctor to receive the examination.

Extensions

All students who register for a course will be eligible for one 4-month extension for a fee of $125. Extension requests and payment of the fee must be received two weeks prior to the expiration date of the course.

If the course is not completed within the original enrollment period and the student does not request an extension, or if the student does not complete the course by the end of the extension period, a grade of “F” is issued. Students have the option of re-enrolling in the course and, while the old course and grade remains on the transcript, only the new grade from the repeated course will be counted in the cumulative statistics.

Drop/Add

Students may drop a course and add another within 7 days of the registration date. The student will pay or be refunded any disparity in tuition between the two courses. The dropped course will not appear on the transcript. Course materials associated with the dropped course are nonreturnable and nonrefundable.

Dropping/Withdrawing from Courses

The refund schedule and transcript ramifications for students who withdraw from a course are as follows:

- Withdraw within 7 days of registration: 100% refund and course does not appear on the transcript
- Withdraw between 8 to 28 days of registration: 75% refund and course appears as a “W” on the transcript
- Withdraw between 29 days of registration and the original course due date: 0% refund and course appears as a “W” on the transcript
- Withdraw during the extension period: 0% refund and course appears as a “WF” on the transcript

To request to be withdrawn, contact the office at online@taylor.edu or 800-845-3149. The date the request is submitted will be honored as the withdrawal date.

Fee Payment Procedure

The process of requesting course changes and submitting the associated fees is completed through the Taylor University Online website. Students will click “Pay Fees” and enter course and payment information. The student will be notified within three business days of the approval of course changes.

Grading System

Evaluation and grading are an integral part of the learning process at Taylor University Online. Grades are a means of validating learning and are used to quantify the extent to which course competencies have been met. They also serve as a validating measure to third parties such as employers, other academic institutions, scholarship programs, etc.

The following grades and quality points are assigned to Taylor University Online students when calculating the grade point average (GPA):

Grade	Meaning	Quality Points	Calculated in GPA
A	Superior	4.00	Yes
A-		3.67	Yes
B+		3.33	Yes
B	Good	3.00	Yes
B-		2.67	Yes
C+		2.33	Yes
C	Satisfactory	2.00	Yes

C-		1.67	Yes
D+		1.33	Yes
D	Minimally accepted	1.00	Yes
D-		.67	Yes
F	Failing	0	Yes
P	Pass (C- or above)	0	No
WP	Withdrawn – Passing	0	No
WF	Withdrawn – Failing	0	No
EXT	Course extended	0	No

The unit of credit is the semester hour. Grade point average is calculated by dividing quality points by GPA hours. Grade point hours include only Taylor University courses taken for a grade.

Final Grades

A course is completed when 1) a student completes all requirements in the course syllabus, 2) all outstanding fees have been paid, and 3) the final grade has been posted. Please allow one week per assignment submission for the instructor to process a final grade. Final grades are maintained as a permanent record by Taylor University and are reported on transcripts. If a grade is needed in a shorter timeframe than one week per assignment, contact the Taylor University Online office prior to enrolling in the course to make arrangements.

Academic Grievance and Grade Changes

Procedures have been established to provide fair process of any academic complaint registered by a student. These procedures are part of the University's commitment to maintaining a climate of openness and justice in all areas of academic life. The objective is to provide fair treatment of both any student who registers an academic complaint and any faculty member, and any other academic staff member, who is accused of unfairness toward a student. The first step for students who believe unfair treatment has occurred in their academic experience is to make contact with the respective faculty member or academic staff person to discuss the issue. Then, if necessary, the student should discuss the issue with the Taylor University Online Office. If the issue is still not resolved, Taylor University Online will initiate a formal grievance process.

All requests for change of grade (except from an EXT) are initiated by the student with the professor of record and then approved by the Dean. Questions regarding a grade should be directed to the professor within sixty days (60) of the final submission for your course (exam or lesson).

Student Complaint Resolution

The U.S. Department of Education has amended the Higher Education Act (HEA) authorizing the "Program Integrity Rule." This amendment provides, among other things, regulations associated with the federal student financial aid program that require colleges or universities authorized to offer postsecondary education in one or more states to ensure access to a complaint process 34 CFR 668.43(b) that will permit student consumers to address the following:

1. Alleged violations of State consumer protection laws that include but are not limited to fraud and false advertising;
2. Alleged violations of State laws or rules relating to the licensure of postsecondary institutions; and
3. Complaints relating to the quality of education or other State or accreditation requirements.

Academic Dishonesty and Plagiarism

Academic dishonesty constitutes a serious violation of scholarship standards and can result in substantial penalties, including the denial of credit in a course, as well as dismissal from the university. Any act that involves misrepresentation regarding the learner's academic work or that abridges the rights of other students to fair academic competition is forbidden. Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, cheating on assignments or exams, plagiarizing (misrepresenting another's work as one's own original creation), submitting the same paper (or substantially the same paper) in more than one course without prior consent of all instructors concerned, depriving others of necessary academic sources, sabotaging another student's work, having others do the student's work, inappropriate use/choice of proctors who oversee the proctored exams, and inappropriate or disruptive behavior during classes, seminars or online learning environments. Students must not work in collaboration with others on assignments unless expressly directed by the instructor. Copying material from the course textbooks without attribution is also forbidden.

Assignments submitted to Taylor may be subjected to plagiarism detection software to determine if the work is in compliance with proper citation practices in accordance to accepted style manual guidelines. Taylor University uses the American Psychological Association (APA) format for writing papers. Works submitted and determined to be plagiarized will be subjected to penalty that includes, but is not limited to, return of the assignment for resubmission, assignment grade reduction, assignment failure, course grade reduction, course failure, or dismissal from the university.

All reports of plagiarism are reported to the Dean and Taylor University Online and will be placed in the student's academic file.

Academic Policy Exceptions

Requests for exceptions to academic policy may be made in writing (along with all pertinent information) to the Dean.

Change of Name or Address

It is the responsibility of the student to keep Taylor University Online informed of any change in name, address, phone number, or email address. The appropriate documents are required for name changes.

Transcript Request

In accordance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, transcripts may not be released without the written consent of the student. To request a transcript, please submit the transcript request form to the Office of the Registrar. This is a free service, but no transcript is issued unless all financial obligations to the University are current according to the Business Office.

The form can be downloaded from the Taylor University Online website under the "transcripts" section. Taylor University sends transcripts as a free service to students, and typically fulfills requests within a week. A student can decide to pay a fee to have the transcript expedited. Contact the Registrar's Office for more information at 765.998.5129.

High School Students

High school juniors and seniors (students 16 to 19 years old) can start college early by taking dual credit courses online. Students are welcome to take any course and may take up to 24 credit hours prior to high school graduation. These college courses can also count as high school credits, as determined by guidance counselors or homeschool parents. Dual credit courses taken through Taylor University Online are transferrable to other institutions. Students still pursuing a high school education are not eligible to enroll in a degree program.

High school students receive a reduced tuition rate of $200 per credit hour (a savings of $150 per credit hour). The discount does not apply to professional writing courses taken in conjunction with the Christian Writers Guild.

To participate in the program, simply fill out the enrollment form and enter “homeschool” or the name of your high school in the “current school attending” field. Due to system limitations, you will initially be charged the full amount and will need to call the office to ensure receipt of the reduced tuition rate.

Certificates

Taylor University Online offers the following certificates:

- Biblical and Cultural Leadership (24 credit hours)
- Biblical Studies (24 credit hours)
- Christian Worker (18 credit hours)
- Justice and Ministry (18 credit hours)
- Leadership Development (18 credit hours)
- Missions Studies (18 credit hours)
- Professional Writing (23 credit hours)

Courses are offered in ISO format. For more information regarding this format, refer to the Taylor University Online Structure section.

Elective Courses

Various degree programs require elective credit. Unless otherwise noted, the student may choose to fulfill this requirement with any course not specifically required by the program. When elective hours from a specific discipline are required, any course from within that discipline and not already specifically required by the program can fulfill the requirement.

Application Procedure

The process of applying to the certificate program requires submission of the following:

- Application – Submitted via the Taylor University Online website under the “certificates” section.
- Official high school and college transcripts – Sealed documents sent directly from the institution to Taylor University Online. Photocopies or previously opened documents are not accepted.

Admission Standards

If English is not the applicant’s primary language, a minimum TOEFL score of 550 is required. The TOEFL test may be no more than 2 years old. For more information on TOEFL visit their website at <http://www.toefl.org>.

If the applicant is not a United States citizen and is living in the U.S., proof of visa status is required that includes copy of current passport and copy of visa allowing applicant to reside in the U.S.

Policies

Guest student policies and procedures apply to certificate students with the following exceptions:

- Certificate students must have completed high school (GED or acceptable equivalent).
- Acceptance in a certificate program does not constitute admission to any other academic program offered by Taylor University.
- Students may transfer one-third of the academic credit for a certificate by submitting official transcripts from previously attended colleges or universities.
- Students taking courses toward a certificate do not qualify for financial aid, Taylor scholarships, or grants.
- Students must enroll in at least one course per year.
- Upon completion of required courses, an academic audit will take place verifying that all courses and certificate requirements are met. A minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.0 is required. The certificate will be mailed to the student within 30 days of the audit verification.

Advising

Upon acceptance, students will be assigned an advisor who will assist in planning the sequence of courses. Each student will be provided with a program requirement document which will also serve as the suggested schedule.

Stop-Out Policy

A student who finds it necessary to suspend their certificate-seeking status with Taylor University Online temporarily with the firm intention to return may apply for stop-out status. This status, which is open to students in good academic standing (2.0 GPA or above), is limited to one year, requires a definite return date, and enables students to return without formally applying for readmission to Taylor University Online. Students unable to return at the designated return date will be required to go through the formal readmission process. The stop-out application process requires approval by the student's advisor and the registrar. A student planning to take courses at another institution during the stop-out period must submit transfer credit request forms to Taylor University Online before the stop-out status will be approved. Failure to do so will require submission of the readmission form.

Program Withdrawal

The withdrawal process requires the student to provide Taylor University Online with written notification. The date of withdrawal is the date on which the letter, fax, or email notification of withdrawal is received by Taylor University Online. Once withdrawn, the student must submit the readmission form should they desire to reenter the certificate program. All incomplete coursework will be subject to standing academic and refund policies. A withdrawn student is still responsible for any outstanding financial obligations.

Program withdrawal will occur automatically for any certificate student not actively enrolled in at least one course per year.

Readmission Procedure

Students wishing to reenter Taylor Online must submit a readmission form for acceptance. If changes are made to the program while the student is withdrawn, the student will be required to follow the catalog for the year of re-admittance.

Undergraduate Degrees

Taylor University Online offers the following undergraduate degrees:

Associate of Arts in Biblical Studies

The Associate of Arts in Biblical Studies is designed for individuals who are interested in preparation for vocational or lay Christian ministry. The curriculum is designed to give the student a foundational understanding of the Bible, Christian theology and the knowledge and skills to serve in a church or para-church setting. The 65-hour program consists of 44 hours of general education course work and 21 hours of course work in the discipline.

Associate of Arts in Human Services

This degree blends the disciplines of social work and psychology. Upon completion, students can seamlessly transition to campus to complete a BA/BS in social work in two additional years. The requirements consist of 65 credit hours: 47 general education credits and 18 major credits.

Associate of Arts in Justice Administration

The Associate of Arts in Justice Administration is designed for individuals currently serving in or seeking to enter the multi-dimensional field of criminal justice, courts, corrections, law enforcement and juvenile justice. The program is based on a Christian perspective of justice that holds spiritual as well as practical implications, recognizing that while sin has its consequences, God's desire to redeem all men requires a restorative view of justice. Therefore, study of the justice system is approached with a focus on changing the individual spiritually.

The 65-hour program consists of 44 credit hours of general education course work and 21 credit hours of course work in the discipline. The discipline hours will include courses in a ministry or public policy concentration.

Ministry Concentration

The ministry concentration for the Associate of Arts degree in Justice Administration consists of 12 hours of justice education coursework, 3 hours of psychology coursework and 6 hours of ministry coursework.

Public Policy Concentration

The public policy concentration for the Associate of Arts degree in Justice Administration consists of 18 hours of justice education coursework and 3 hours of behavioral sciences coursework.

Associate of Arts in Liberal Arts

The Associate of Arts in Liberal Arts is offered for students who desire a degree program that emphasizes a breadth of knowledge. The program ranges from 65 to 68 credit hours with 44 hours of general education course work, and 21 to 24 hours of coursework in the desired concentration (business, Christian ministries, discipleship, history, or social science).

Business Concentration

The business concentration for the Associate of Arts degree in Liberal Arts consists of 18 hours of business coursework and 3 hours of mathematics coursework.

Christian Ministries Concentration

The Christian ministries concentration for the Associate of Arts degree in Liberal Arts consists of 15 hours of Bible and ministry coursework, 3 hours of mathematics coursework and 6 hours of elective coursework.

Discipleship Concentration

The discipleship concentration for the Associate of Arts degree in Liberal Arts consists of 6 hours of ministry coursework, 9 hours of psychology coursework, 3 hours of mathematics coursework and 6 hours of elective coursework.

History Concentration

The history concentration for the Associate of Arts degree in Liberal Arts consists of 15 hours of history coursework and 6 hours of elective coursework.

Social Science Concentration

The social science concentration for the Associate of Arts degree in Liberal Arts consists of 6 hours of sociology coursework, 6 hours of psychology coursework, 3 hours of social work coursework and 6 hours of elective coursework.

Associate of Arts in Professional Writing

This degree emphasizes learning the different styles of publishable genres through courses in article writing, freelance writing, journalism, and scriptwriting in order to train the student to deliver quality content in various forms. This online writing degree consists of 66 credit hours: 47 general education credits and 19 major credits.

Bachelor of Business Administration

The Bachelor of Business Administration (BBA) explores business principles in a practical and biblical manner. Students are introduced to different areas of business including management, marketing, entrepreneurship, communication, and finance. The BBA consists of 120 credit hours: 34 general education credits, 55 major credits, and 31 elective credits.

Minors

The BBA student can add a minor in marketing and/or human resource management to his/her degree. Students are encouraged to dedicate elective hours to pursuing the 24-25 credit hour minors; this approach will not add additional hours to the 120-credit-hour requirement for the BBA. The classes are taught in independent study online (ISO) format. The overall cost of the degree remains the same if classes replace electives.

Major Classes

BBA students must register for major classes the term they are offered in collaborative study online (CSO) format to ensure availability and timely completion of his/her degree. If the student is unable to register for major classes when they are available, Taylor University Online will work to meet the student's programmatic needs in a timely fashion, but cannot guarantee prompt availability of a course.

Practicum

BBA students complete a 4 credit hour practicum experience as part of the curriculum. Practicums give the opportunity to put classroom theory to practical use. Initially, students work with their professor to determine the expectations for the practicum, which are specific to the student's interest. Most students complete the practicum with their current employer. However, students may also choose to volunteer in a business-related capacity for a non-profit organization such as the YMCA or a church.

Course Format

Courses are offered in two formats – independent study online (ISO) and collaborative study online (CSO). In ISO courses, a student works one-on-one with the professor and has no peer interaction. Associate of Arts students only take courses in ISO format. CSO courses are taken by students pursuing a Bachelor of Business Administration degree. These courses are offered only within traditional semester-length terms. They include peer-to-peer interaction, and may include group projects.

In either format, the student can work on a class any time of the day, and never has to be online at a specific time. Taylor utilizes Blackboard, a password-protected interactive website, as the platform to deliver courses.

Elective Courses

Various degree programs require elective credit. Unless otherwise noted, the student may choose to fulfill this requirement with any course not specifically required by the program. When the degree plan requires elective hours from a specific discipline, any course from within that discipline and not already specifically required by the program can fulfill the requirement.

General Education

All students at Taylor University share certain common educational requirements. Known as general education, this program grows out of the purpose of the university as expressed in its Christian beliefs, mission statement, and academic objectives.

In seeking to integrate faith and learning in the Christian university environment, the general education program recognizes that all truth is God's truth in the special revelation of the inspired Scriptures and in the accumulated knowledge of human experience. The Christian faith permeates all learning. This idea means that (1) faith is the foundation for our learning in the academic disciplines, and (2) the academic disciplines are important for informing our faith and transforming our world.

Christian worldview assumptions provide the foundation for the learning process and infuse the liberal arts and the academic majors with direction, meaning, and motive for application. Such interaction of faith and learning transforms general education courses in terms of subject selection, interpretation of information, the search for meaning in information, the application of knowledge, a model for living and learning, and an enthusiastic appreciation for knowledge. The liberal arts enhance the study of the student's major and support preparation for the world of work as well as civic, social, and personal responsibilities.

Representing over half of the associate of arts programs, general education is liberating education in that it frees Christians to think and deal with the entire range of knowledge. The faculty of Taylor University affirms that general education is intended to develop learners who evidence the following characteristics of mature and intellectual Christians:

Spiritual Activity: Students who are spiritually active have developed an intellectual and experiential understanding of the Christian heritage enacted in a consistent lifestyle of study, worship, service, stewardship, and world outreach.

Critical Thinking: Students who are critical thinkers have learned the intellectually disciplined process of conceptualizing, quantifying, analyzing, synthesizing, and evaluating information gathered from or generated by observation, experience, reflection, reason, or communication as a guide for action or belief.

Competent Communication: Students who are competent communicators have developed understanding and skill in the nature and practice of private and public discourse as instruments for creating, interpreting, and evaluating beliefs, attitudes, policies, and values in the context of various communities.

Scientific Literacy: Students who are scientifically literate have understood and employed the scientific method as a means of inquiry, are familiar with basic subject matter in representative areas of the natural sciences, understand foundational connections among the various areas of science and mathematics, and are able to relate scientific principles to human affairs.

Aesthetic Literacy: Students who are aesthetically literate have developed knowledge of the unique epistemology represented by the arts, including a discerning awareness of the language and literature of diverse art forms.

Civic Mindedness: Students who are civic minded have attained systematic knowledge of the structure and processes of domestic and international cultural, economic, political, and social systems and value participation in those structures and processes.

Responsible Stewardship: Students who are responsible stewards have developed an understanding of God's command to be good caretakers of His creation and practice individual accountability in managing spiritual, intellectual, personal, physical, and economic resources.

Lifelong Learning: Students who are lifelong learners are committed to learning as a means of continuous growth and development, which expresses itself in ministry and reverence toward God in an ever-changing world.

Application for the Degree Programs

Taylor University Online accepts applications to its degree programs on a year-round basis.

Criteria for Admission

Degree programs offered through Taylor University Online are specifically designed for motivated, self-directed learners who desire to maximize their learning experience through a unique, flexible and learner-empowered educational process.

Thus, qualified applicants possess:

- Motivation to work toward the completion of a degree with Taylor University Online.
- An ability to successfully engage in college-level coursework as demonstrated by transcribed credits from previously attended colleges or universities or related experiences.
- An ability to become a self-directed learner.
- Computer capabilities for involvement in electronic communications with other learners, faculty and staff.
- A clear sense of educational direction.

Application Procedure

The process to apply for a degree program is outlined on the "degree" page of the TU Online website, and includes downloadable materials. The application process requires the submission of the following items:

- Application
- Personal recommendation
- Official high school and college transcripts*
- Official SAT or ACT scores*
- Proficiency exams (when applicable)
- Application fee of $40

Applications will not be reviewed until all materials are submitted. Students will be notified of acceptance within a week of the office receiving the last portion of the application.

*Official transcripts/scores are sealed documents sent directly from the institution to TU Online. Photocopies or previously opened documents are not accepted.

Proof of Secondary School Completion

High School Transcripts

Applicant must have an official (sealed and signed by the school and sent to Taylor University Online) high school transcript submitted as part of the application process. This transcript must show the student's graduation date, class rank and cumulative grade point average. A copy of a high school diploma is not proof of completion and is not to be submitted. Contact the high school from which the student graduated to request a copy.

Homeschool Student Records

A transcript of the student's academic record is required of all homeschool graduates. The record must be typed and signed by the person(s) who supervised the education. It must also show the graduation date and grade point average. Additional proof may be required if the grades on the transcript do not adequately indicate successful completion or gaps in the education record exist.

General Education Diploma (GED) or Other Graduation Documentation

Students who have a GED must have a composite score no less than 52 with no individual score below 48. An official copy of the GED test results must be sent to Taylor University Online directly.

Postsecondary college applicants who have not earned a high school diploma or GED must achieve passing scores on an approved test to qualify for federal aid as Ability to Benefit (ATB) students. Students would be advised to take such a test and have official test results submitted to Taylor University Online.

There are other agencies and state offices that test and issue secondary school completion certification. Taylor University will review and evaluate such agencies to determine acceptability for admission into a Taylor University Online degree program. Submit official proof and test results along with the application.

Acceptance

This admission classification is for applicants who meet the admissions standards. Accepted students can enroll in ISO courses immediately; students choosing to use financial aid must wait until the beginning of the next term. Applicants will be notified in writing of acceptance or rejection into a degree program. Taylor University Online reserves the right to withdraw a course or program or to limit its enrollment when for any reason it becomes impractical to offer it as previously scheduled.

Provisional Acceptance

This admissions classification is for applicants who, because of unusual circumstances, do not meet the minimum academic standards for regular admission. Students admitted under this classification must earn a minimum GPA of 1.70 during the first year as a full-time student in order to remain at Taylor. Students accepted under this classification are given a prescribed schedule that is less than 15 hours per semester.

Denial

Applicants who are not accepted into the program may reapply after a six month waiting period.

Placement and Proficiency Exams

Students are placed in the appropriate level of English and mathematics based on SAT or ACT scores. If test scores are not available or do not meet the standards outlined below, students are required to take remedial courses.

English/Writing

In order to ensure writing success at Taylor, all students will place into the freshman writing course that best meets their needs as college writers:

- ENG101 Fundamentals of Writing
- ENG110 Expository Writing

Most students' writing placement is determined by using SAT Critical Reading or ACT English test scores. Students with SAT critical reading scores of 540 or above or ACT English scores of 23 or above are considered to have met the writing placement requirement, and will be placed into ENG110. Students with lower or no available scores will be placed into ENG101.

After his/her placement, if a student believes that he/she has been placed into the wrong writing course – either at too high or too low of a level – the student should contact his/her advisor. The student will be given an online writing test to complete. Then, this writing sample, along with the SAT/ACT test scores, will be evaluated in order to determine if the writing placement should be changed. The student will receive an email within two weeks of completing the writing test notifying him or her of the final writing placement.

All new students, both first-time freshmen and transfer students, are expected to complete ENG110 Expository Writing by the end of their first year, including at Taylor, approved transfer credit, or AP/CLEP credit.

Transfer Credit for ENG110

Writing courses transferred from other institutions to meet ENG110 must represent the total writing requirement at that college or university (the last course in a sequence if more than one semester is offered). The course should include process writing, finished essays, and a research paper. The Registrar's office must approve transfer courses.

AP Credit for ENG110

An AP score of 5 qualifies for credit, while a score of 4 requires evaluation of the essay by the English Department at Taylor University. If a score of 4 is received, it is the student's responsibility to request that AP send the essay to Taylor by September 15 for fall enrollment or March 15 for spring enrollment. The AP process must be completed before October 15 for students entering the fall semester or March 15 for those entering the spring semester.

CLEP Credit for ENG110

Students wishing to attempt CLEP credit must have scores at or above 660-SAT Critical Reading or 27-ACT English. A scaled score of 50 or higher on the CLEP College Composition Module exam qualifies a student to write an essay evaluated by the English Department. The CLEP exam must be taken and passed by October 15 for the students entering in the fall semester and March 15 for students entering in the spring semester. Students not completing all requirements by the appropriate date must register for ENG110 in their second semester at Taylor.

Math

Students with SAT math scores of 550 or above or ACT math scores of 24 or above are considered to have met the math proficiency requirement.

Students with SAT math scores below 550, ACT math scores below 24 or no available test scores are required to attain a passing score of at least 35 on the math proficiency exam. Students in this group who do not pass the proficiency exam will be enrolled in MAT100 Fundamentals of Mathematics. Failure to pass the exam as part of the course will require re-enrollment in MAT100 for the following term.

Students who wish to take the math proficiency exam must do so within one year of acceptance into the degree program. The exam can only be taken once. The student should contact his/her advisor to request the exam.

Transfer credit math courses will not meet the math proficiency requirement.

Advanced Placement

Students may qualify for advanced placement and college credit by satisfying the standards set by individual departments to pass the College Board Advanced Placement Examinations (AP), the College Level Examination Program (CLEP), the International Baccalaureate (IB) credit at the higher level, and Cambridge General Certificate of Education Advanced Level Examinations (GCE A-Level).

Students may be eligible for placement at the next level of the college sequence and may receive college credit if the overall quality of their performance merits such recognition. A maximum of 30 hours of advanced placement and credit by examination may be applied to meet graduation requirements.

Prior to entering Taylor, students interested in AP or CLEP testing credit should contact Taylor University Online to request information regarding testing policies, fees, deadlines, and limitations. AP credit must be elected in the student's first semester at Taylor. CLEP exams must be taken and credit elected prior to reaching senior status at Taylor.

IB is a rigorous pre-university course of study that leads to examinations. For a student to obtain IB credit, the courses must be at the higher level (HL); scores must be 5 or higher; courses for the major are subject to departmental review. Official transcripts must be requested from the IB office, not the high school; syllabi may be required if the course subject has not been previously reviewed.

GCE A-Level credit may be awarded with a grade of D or higher. Students must submit a certified copy of the examination certificate and examination syllabus to the Office of the Registrar. Credit will not be awarded on the basis of a results slip. Academic departments must approve credit for exams.

Transfer Credit Policies

New Students

To receive credit for coursework earned at other accredited institutions, new students should request that college transcripts be sent directly to Taylor University Online. These transcripts are then evaluated, and a copy of the evaluation is sent to the student. The Registrar evaluates courses for general education and elective credit, and confers with the appropriate department chair to have major or minor courses evaluated for transfer credit. Course descriptions and syllabi may be required in order to evaluate transfer courses.

Current Students

After enrolling at Taylor, students who plan to take a course at another institution and wish to transfer credit to apply toward a degree must complete a transfer credit course approval form signed by the student's academic advisor, course department chair and the Registrar prior to enrolling in the course. The major or minor department chair's signature may be required if the course is a major/minor requirement. Upon completion of the course, students should request that transcripts be sent directly to Taylor University Online.

The guidelines for accepting transfer credit are as follows:

- Taylor University reserves the right to accept or reject courses for transfer credit. Remedial or vocational courses are not transferable.
- Accepting courses for transfer credit and applying them toward degree requirements are separate considerations. Courses that transfer as elective credit may not be applicable to specific requirements.
- Only course work with a grade of “C-” or better will be accepted. Courses taken for a grade mode of pass, credit or satisfactory do not transfer unless the transcript indicates that the grade is equivalent to at least a “C-”. Although a minimum grade is required, grades do not transfer. The student’s GPA is computed only on work offered by or through Taylor University.
- Transfer credit will not be accepted and duplicate hours will not be awarded for equivalent courses previously earned with a grade of “D-” or better at Taylor. However, the grade on the transfer institution’s transcript will be used to validate completion of the course to meet a curriculum requirement with the required grade. Students attempting to raise their cumulative GPAs must repeat the respective course(s) at Taylor.
- Credits transferred from an accredited college may be accepted for transfer credit; however, lower-division (100-/200-level) or upper-division (300-/400-level) credit will be awarded based upon the Taylor equivalency course level.
- Credit by examination (e.g. AP, CLEP, IB) recorded for a specific course on an official transcript must meet Taylor’s standards in order to be accepted as transfer credit. Procedures for acceptance of credit may be obtained from Taylor University Online. Departmental challenge exams from other institutions are not transferrable.
- Graduation honors are computed only on Taylor University coursework.
- Degree requirements: (1) students must complete 50 percent of the minimum degree hours at Taylor University [e.g., 32 of the minimum 64 hours required for an associate degree]; (2) students must complete 50 percent of the major or minor hours at Taylor University; and (3) at least 22 of the last 30 hours must be taken at Taylor University.
- Current Taylor University Online students may not transfer in courses taken from another institution that are available from Taylor University Online. If the course is offered by Taylor University Online, it must be taken from Taylor University Online unless special permission has been granted by the student’s advisor.

At Taylor University Online, courses are transcribed on a semester credit system. Thus, courses taken at colleges and universities operating on the quarter system are converted to semester credit hours. Vocationally oriented and skill-level courses such as typing, shorthand, auto mechanics, etc., are not accepted toward degree programs within Taylor University Online. Remedial courses, duplicate credit, and continuing education units (CEU) are not accepted as transfer credit.

Prior Learning Assessment (PLA)

PLA is the process by which students document college level learning that occurred through life experiences in order to receive credit. Examples of life experience include job training, non-credit courses, military experience, volunteer activities, community service, etc. A maximum of 16 credit hours can be earned through PLA, which is in addition to transfer credit.

The process begins by taking IAS103 Introduction to Portfolio Development, a one-credit hour portfolio instruction class designed to help the student understand, create, and submit a PLA portfolio. Appropriate faculty members evaluate each portfolio and determine whether credit is awarded. PLA is restricted to students 25 years of age or older.

Fees for PLA include a $400 portfolio opening fee and a $100 transcription fee if credit is awarded.

Financial Aid

For the most current information, please refer to the financial aid section of our website at <http://online.taylor.edu/degrees/tuition.shtml>.

The financial aid programs at Taylor University recognize that it is the basic responsibility of students and their families to finance a college education. However, the rising cost of education has made it necessary for many students to enlist financial assistance outside their personal resources. Financial aid can help many qualified students attend Taylor regardless of financial circumstances.

The financial aid programs offer assistance to students in need in the form of scholarships, grants, and loans. Financial aid is awarded primarily on the basis of financial need, except in the case of merit scholarships that require superior academic achievement and ability. If the student's aid package is based on financial need, the total aid package (including merit and outside scholarships) cannot exceed the student's financial need.

Financial need is defined as the difference between a family's resources and the total cost of attending college. If a difference exists between the total cost of attending Taylor (including all tuition, fees, and personal expenses) and the ability of the family to meet these educational costs, the student is determined to have financial need. An evaluation of financial need includes consideration of the parents' and student's income and assets, household size, and number of household members in college.

To determine the extent of the student's financial need and the family's ability to pay for educational expenses, Taylor uses the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). An analysis of this data determines the student's eligibility for need-based grants and loans.

Students who plan to enroll on a part-time basis should consult Taylor University Online about the availability of financial aid programs. It should be noted that many aid programs require that a student be enrolled full time (a minimum of 12 credit hours per semester). To continue to receive need-based financial aid, a student cannot be on extended academic probation and must meet the criteria established in the Taylor University Satisfactory Academic Progress Policy. A copy of this policy is available online at <http://www.taylor.edu/admissions/finaid/forms.shtml>. Satisfactory academic progress for financial aid applicants/recipients shall be measured both qualitatively and quantitatively. In order to maintain eligibility to receive financial aid, a student must successfully complete at least 50% of the credit hours attempted in a given term and 80% of the overall credit hours attempted. The student must also complete his/her undergraduate degree within 160 credit hours attempted, including transfer hours, AP and CLEP credit, and any other credits used to meet degree requirements.

How to Apply for Financial Aid

Students should begin the application process for financial aid as soon as possible. Those only interested in merit-based programs need not submit any financial aid forms. The Financial Aid Office automatically awards merit-based scholarships after receiving the appropriate information from Taylor University Online.

In order to receive timely consideration in the awarding of financial aid, students must: (1) submit the indicated forms; (2) respond promptly to requests for additional information, documentation, etc.; and (3) comply with the following directives:

- Be accepted for admission to Taylor University. Students may apply for financial aid prior to their acceptance at Taylor, but financial aid will not be awarded until acceptance is finalized. Please note that transfer students must indicate Taylor University as a recipient of their Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) information.
- Complete the FAFSA online at <http://www.fafsa.ed.gov> as soon as possible after January 1. Students are eligible for the Federal Stafford Loan, Federal Pell Grant, Federal PLUS funds and non-need merit-based aid.

Please also consider the following:

- In order to avoid unnecessary delays in processing, the Taylor Financial Aid Office strongly recommends that a family complete its income tax returns before completing the FAFSA. However, if this is not possible, the FAFSA must be completed using estimated tax information in order to meet the deadline.
- The release of information to Taylor University should be clearly requested on the FAFSA (code # 001838).

Merit-Based Scholarship

Merit-based awards are presented to students who demonstrate outstanding scholarship. Financial need is not considered for this type of aid. This scholarship is available to all students beginning with their second term with Taylor University Online through the completion of their degrees. The scholarship will be based on the student's GPA from the first semester with Taylor and is renewable each year based on the student's cumulative GPA. To be eligible for this scholarship, the student must meet the following criteria:

- Registered for at least six credit hours in the previous semester
- Earned a cumulative 3.5 GPA or above
- Registering for at least six credit hours the following term (NOTE: If the student takes one or more semesters off, he/she will not be eligible for the scholarship the semester he/she returns.)

The award is available to all students who meet this criteria and is renewable with a 3.5 cumulative Taylor GPA. Students are not required to file the FAFSA to receive the scholarship. Taylor employees and their dependents are not eligible for this scholarship.

The scholarship amount will be based on the number of hours a student is registering for in the term the scholarship will be applied, and is as follows:

Hours Registered	Scholarship Amount
6 - 8 hours	$250
9 - 11 hours	$375
12 hours and above	$500

Church Matching Grant

This grant allows Taylor University Online to match 100% of a church's contribution, up to a maximum of $100 per semester. The grant is available to all students who meet the following criteria:

- Seeking a degree from Taylor University Online
- Taking at least six credit hours within the semester

All interested students should request a grant pledge form due back to Taylor University Online by October 1 for the fall semester. Monies from the church must be received by November 1 for the fall semester in order to be matched by Taylor University. Dates for the spring semester are March 1 and April 1; for the summer semester, June 1 and July 1. Taylor employees and their dependents are not eligible for this grant.

Federal Pell Grant

Anyone may apply for this grant by completing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). The Federal Pell Grant is based on financial need as determined by the FAFSA. It offers a maximum of $5,550 per year (amount subject to change on a yearly basis).

Loans

Anyone may apply for the following loans by completing the appropriate applications:

- The Federal Direct Subsidized Stafford Loan is a student loan provided directly from the federal government. If you are interested in this loan, follow the instructions listed in your electronic award notification. To ensure disbursement for the August payment, you must apply online at <http://www.taylor.edu/admissions/finaid/student-loans> by July 1. This loan is based on financial need as determined by the FAFSA. The loan provides a maximum of $3,500 per year for freshmen; $4,500 per year for sophomores; and $5,500 per year for juniors and seniors, depending on financial need. Repayment begins six months after the student leaves school or drops below half-time status. This loan has a fixed interest rate of 3.86 percent.
- The Federal Direct Unsubsidized Federal Stafford Loan is not based on financial need. Interest accrues from the date of disbursement and will be capitalized into the loan. Otherwise, it operates the same as a subsidized loan. It cannot exceed maximum loan limits when combined with a subsidized loan. This loan has a fixed interest rate of 3.86 percent.
- The Federal Direct PLUS Loan is a loan for parents provided directly from the federal government, and a separate application must be completed online at www.studentloans.gov. To ensure disbursement for the August payment, the online application must be completed by July 1. If your application was accepted, please sign the Master Promissory Note if this is your first Parent PLUS loan. The Parent PLUS loan is not based on financial need and may not exceed the cost of attendance minus other aid. Interest on each disbursement amount begins to accrue at the time of disbursement. Repayment begins 60 days after the final disbursement of the loan period or repayment can be deferred until six months after the student graduates. Federal PLUS has a fixed interest rate of 6.41 percent.

Finance

Tuition is charged at $350 per credit hour.

Payment of Bills

The billing statement is emailed on or by the last day of each month to the student's supplied email address, with payment due the 20th of the month. The initial billing statement for the fall semester is sent on or about September 1, and is due in full September 20.

Statements are issued each month for students who owe a balance or have had transactions to their account during that billing cycle. Any new charges that may occur are due the 20th of the month in which they are billed. Full account information is available through the portal and includes unbilled activity as well as statements. Payment can be submitted over the phone with a credit card or by mailing a check. We accept MasterCard, Discover, or VISA. It is the student's responsibility to provide access to this information to their parents.

Taylor University uses the email address provided by the student to communicate, and the student is responsible to check their email account regularly as they miss important information if they do not do so. Students can set up their preferred address for online billing and also authorize additional (e.g. parent) e-billing addresses by completing the authorization that can be accessed through their online account.

Taylor charges a monthly penalty on late payments based on the following policy: Any account balance not paid by the due date when first billed will be subject to a 1.08% interest fee or a minimum of $5 on late payments.

A student's account must be current to avoid a hold by the Office of the Bursar on registration, and a student's account must be paid in full for release of transcripts or diploma.

Refund Schedule

Below is the refund schedule for the semester. It applies only if the student withdraws from all classes taken within that term. If the student only withdraws from some classes, he or she forfeits the cost of tuition for those classes.

Withdrawals to the end of:

• First Week*	90%
• Second Week	90%
• Third Week	75%
• Fourth Week	60%
• Fifth Week	45%
• Sixth Week	20%
• Seventh Week to end of semester	0%

*First five class days of the term.

Academic Advisors

The purpose of academic advising at Taylor University is to assist students in developing educational and career goals that are compatible with their perceived life calling; empower students to accept responsibility and leadership in developing their own educational plans; and aid students in their professional, emotional, and spiritual development.

Students are assigned an advisor. All students are required to communicate with their advisor prior to registering for courses each semester. While Taylor University publishes program information and assigns advisors, each student is solely responsible for ensuring that his/her academic program complies with the policies of the University. Any advice that is at variance with established policy must be confirmed with the Registrar's Office.

Registration Procedure

Upon acceptance into a program, a student will work with his/her assigned advisor to determine a course schedule and to register for classes. Courses are offered in two ways, contingent upon financial aid. If financial aid is utilized, courses are taken within traditional fall, spring, and summer 15-week semesters and, therefore, have set start dates. Without financial aid, a student can enroll in a course any day of the year, and will have four months to complete the coursework. With the latter option, payment is required upfront.

Registration with Financial Aid

Students using financial aid must register within the term. Courses will be ISO format and will have assignment due dates. BBA students may have CSO courses in addition to ISO courses. The registration process is completed through the advisor.

Registration without Financial Aid

Students who are not using financial aid may register outside the term. Courses will be ISO format and will not have assignment due dates. The registration process is completed through the Taylor University Online website.

- Extensions

Students are eligible for one 4-month extension per course for a fee of $125. Extension requests and payment of the fee must be received two weeks prior to the expiration date of the course.

If a course is not completed within the original enrollment period and the student does not request an extension, or if a student cannot complete the course by the end of the extension period, a grade of “F” is issued. Students have the option of re-enrolling in the course and, while the old course and grade remains on the transcript, only the new grade from the repeated course will be counted in the cumulative statistics (GPA).

- Drop/Add

Students may drop a course and add another within 7 days of the registration date. The student will pay or be refunded any disparity in tuition between the two courses. The dropped course will not appear on the transcript. Course materials associated with the dropped course are nonreturnable and nonrefundable.

- Dropping/Withdrawing from Courses

The refund schedule and transcript ramifications for students who withdraw from a course are as follows:

- o Withdraw within 7 days of registration: 100% refund and course does not appear on the transcript
- o Withdraw between 8 and 28 days of registration: 75% refund and course appears as a “W” on the transcript
- o Withdraw between 29 days of registration and the original course due date: 0% refund and course appears as a “V” on the transcript
- o Withdraw during the extension period: 0% refund and course appears as a “WF” on the transcript

To request to be withdrawn from a course, contact your advisor. The date the request is submitted will be honored as the withdrawal date.

Audit Registration

Courses taken through Taylor University Online are not available for audit.

Repeat Registration

A student may repeat any course at Taylor University. All attempts in a course are reflected on the student’s transcript. The cumulative grade point average will reflect the most recent grade in the repeated course. Duplicate credit hours are not awarded when repeating a course.

Academic Calendar

The Taylor University Online academic year consists of fall, spring, and summer semesters. Under this schedule, fall semester classes are concluded prior to the Christmas recess. Classes are conducted each semester for a period of 15 weeks.

The academic calendar is available online at <http://www.taylor.edu/academics/registrar/academic-calendar.shtml>. Students are responsible for complying with published academic deadlines and regulations as stated in the University schedule of classes, academic calendar, and catalog.

Academic Load

For reporting purposes, a minimum of 12 semester credit hours is considered full-time, while less than 12 is considered part-time.

Grading System

Evaluation and grading are an integral part of the learning process at Taylor University Online. Grades are a means of validating learning and are used to quantify the extent to which course competencies have been met. They also serve as a validating measure to third parties such as employers, other academic institutions, scholarship programs, etc.

The following grades and quality points are assigned to Taylor University Online students when calculating the grade point average (GPA):

Grade	Meaning	Quality Points	Calculated in GPA
A	Superior	4.00	Yes
A-		3.67	Yes
B+		3.33	Yes
B	Good	3.00	Yes
B-		2.67	Yes
C+		2.33	Yes
C	Satisfactory	2.00	Yes
C-		1.67	Yes
D+		1.33	Yes
D	Minimally acceptable	1.00	Yes
D-		.67	Yes
F	Failing	0	Yes
P	Pass (C- or above)	0	No
WP	Withdrawn – Passing	0	No
WF	Withdrawn – Failing	0	No
EXT	Course extended	0	No

The unit of credit is the semester hour. Grade point average is calculated by dividing quality points by GPA hours. Grade point hours include only Taylor University courses taken for a grade.

Final Grades

A course is completed when 1) a student completes all requirements in the course syllabus, 2) all outstanding fees have been paid, and 3) the final grade has been posted. Please allow one week per assignment submission for the instructor to process a final grade. Final grades are maintained as a permanent record by Taylor University and are reported on transcripts. If a grade is needed in a shorter timeframe than one week per assignment, contact the Taylor University Online office prior to enrolling in the course to make arrangements.

Academic Progress

A student who meets the minimal grade point average requirements as indicated below is considered to be a student in good academic standing. A student who falls below the minimum required grade point average is placed on academic probation and enters a special advisement program under the direction of Taylor University Online.

Stages	Cumulative Earned Hours	Minimum Required GPA
1	00.00-12.99	1.60
2	13.00-30.99	1.70
3	31.00-44.99	1.80
4	45.00-60.99	1.90
5	61.00 +	2.00

The grade point average of each student is reviewed according to the academic progress chart to determine whether action should be taken with respect to probationary status.

To maintain active status, a student must be enrolled in a minimum of six semester credit hours during each 12 month period from the date of acceptance into a degree program. A student may not enroll in more than 17 credit hours at a time without permission of the Dean. Any student who does not complete at least one course with a satisfactory grade within 12 months of acceptance will be withdrawn from the program.

Academic Grievance and Grade Changes

Procedures have been established to provide fair process of any academic complaint registered by a student. These procedures are part of the University's commitment to maintaining a climate of openness and justice in all areas of academic life. The objective is to provide fair treatment of both any student who registers an academic complaint and any faculty member, and any other academic staff member, who is accused of unfairness toward a student. The first step for students who believe unfair treatment has occurred in their academic experience is to make contact with the respective faculty member or academic staff person to discuss the issue. Then, if necessary, the student should discuss the issue with the Taylor University Online Office. If the issue is still not resolved, Taylor University Online will initiate a formal grievance process.

All requests for change of grade (except from an EXT) are initiated by the student with the professor of record and then approved by the Director. Questions regarding a grade should be directed to the professor within sixty days (60) of the final submission for your course (exam or lesson).

Student Complaint Resolution

The U.S. Department of Education has amended the Higher Education Act (HEA) authorizing the "Program Integrity Rule." This amendment provides, among other things, regulations associated with the federal student financial aid program that require colleges or universities authorized to offer postsecondary education in one or more states to ensure access to a complaint process 34 CFR 668.43(b) that will permit student consumers to address the following:

1. Alleged violations of State consumer protection laws that include but are not limited to fraud and false advertising;
2. Alleged violations of State laws or rules relating to the licensure of postsecondary institutions; and
3. Complaints relating to the quality of education or other State or accreditation requirements.

For more information, please visit: <http://www.taylor.edu/about/services/student-consumer-information/student-complaint->

Stop-Out Policy

A student who finds it necessary to suspend their degree-seeking status with Taylor University Online temporarily with the firm intention to return may apply for stop-out status. This status, which is open to students in good academic standing (2.0 GPA or above), is limited to one year, requires a definite return date, and enables students to return without formally applying for readmission through Taylor University Online. Students unable to return at the designated return date will be required to go through the formal readmission process. The stop-out application process requires approval by the student's advisor and the registrar. A student planning to take courses at another institution during the stop-out period must submit transfer credit request forms to Taylor University Online before the stop-out status will be approved. Failure to do so will require submission of the readmission form.

Academic Probation

For students placed on probation, failure to reach the minimum requirements by the end of the next stage results in suspension from the university, unless during that stage at least a 2.30 grade point average is earned. Students who earn a 2.30 grade point average may be placed on "extended probation" and are not eligible to receive financial aid. First-time suspension is for one semester; a second-time suspension is for one year. A student may apply for readmission after the suspension period. Readmission is not automatic and requires the approval of Taylor University Online.

Placement on academic probation carries related consequences. Eligibility for financial aid continues for one semester only. For unsatisfactory academic performance, the Dean may dismiss learners who have been placed on probation and who have not met the conditions of their probation. Written notification of dismissal shall be sent directly to the learner.

Change of Major/Concentration

A degree-seeking student with Taylor University Online may petition to change from one major or concentration to another. Students changing major/concentration must meet curricular requirements for the new major/concentration. The registrar will conduct a re-evaluation of transfer credits. Transfers and courses already taken from Taylor University may or may not apply to the new major/concentration.

Program Withdrawal

The withdrawal process requires the student to provide Taylor University Online with written notification. The date of withdrawal is the date on which the letter, fax, or email notification of withdrawal is received by Taylor University Online. Once withdrawn, the student must submit the readmission form should they desire to reenter the degree program. All incomplete coursework will be subject to standing academic and refund policies. A withdrawn student is still responsible for any outstanding financial obligations.

Program withdrawal will occur automatically for any student not actively enrolled in at least one course per year.

Readmission Procedure

Students who wish to reenter Taylor University Online must submit the readmission form for acceptance. If changes are made to the program while the student is withdrawn, the student will be required to follow the catalog for the year of readmittance. Students will be subject to the current tuition rate at the time of readmission.

Academic Integrity & Plagiarism

As a Christ-centered intentional community, everything we do and say reflects our identity in Christ and our position as a part of this community; thus, integrity in all areas of life is critical to our own spiritual life and is equally critical to the life of the Taylor community.

Academic dishonesty constitutes a serious violation of academic integrity and scholarship standards at Taylor that can result in substantial penalties, at the sole discretion of the University, including but not limited to, denial of credit in a course as well as dismissal from the University. Any act that involves misrepresentation regarding the student's academic work or that abridges the rights of other students to fair academic competition is forbidden. Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, cheating on assignments or exams, plagiarizing, submitting the same (or substantially the same) paper in more than one course without prior consent of all instructors concerned, depriving others of necessary academic sources, sabotaging another student's work, and using without attribution a computer algorithm or program. In short, a student violates academic integrity when he or she claims credit for any work not his or her own (words, ideas, answers, data, program codes, music, etc.) or when a student misrepresents any academic performance. All major acts of academic dishonesty, as defined herein, must be reported by the faculty member to their School Dean and the Office of Student Development. Departments or professors may have discipline or course-specific policies.

Plagiarism

Definition: In an instructional setting, plagiarism occurs when a person presents or turns in work that includes someone else's ideas, language, or other (not common-knowledge¹) material without giving appropriate credit to the source.²

Taylor distinguishes between major and minor plagiarism infractions. Examples of minor infractions include inappropriate or inadequate citing or not crediting ideas from class readings. Examples of major infractions include taking significant portions of text from any source with no attribution or having a peer help write the paper. Taylor also distinguishes between collaboration, writer's feedback and plagiarism. Collaboration and getting feedback on one's own writing are essential parts of the writing process; however, having a text altered for the writer is not. The level of appropriate collaboration on individual writing assignments is up to each professor; and each professor should make it clear to his or her students what level of collaboration is appropriate for each writing assignment (e.g. brainstorming with other classmates for ideas). Writer's feedback means having a peer or a Writing Center tutor work with the student to provide suggestions for revision in ways that allow the student author to maintain ownership; this is not plagiarism. However, having a peer make changes to the organization, ideas, paragraphs, or sentences for the student demonstrates a level of ownership over the work; thus, these acts would be considered plagiarism.

Plagiarism Policy: All major acts of plagiarism must be reported by the faculty member to the appropriate academic School Dean and Student Development. The student and faculty member involved will receive a copy of the completed plagiarism incident report. All incident reports will be archived in both the academic School and Student Development and will be viewed and used solely by the deans of these offices to track plagiarism incidents in order to catch patterns of behavior. This tracking will affect student consequences for any additional plagiarism incidents reported and may affect recommendations for off-campus student activity participation. Plagiarism records in the academic School office and Student Development will be destroyed along with all other student records according to their respective policies.

¹ Common knowledge means any knowledge or facts that could be found in multiple places or as defined by a discipline, department, or faculty member.

² Adapted from the Writing Program Administrators' "Defining and Avoiding Plagiarism: The WPA Statement on Best

Textbooks

It is the responsibility of the student to obtain textbooks. If the student is waiting for financial aid in order to get books, he/she can request Taylor University Online to order and ship required textbooks on his/her behalf. The student will be charged a fee of $165 per course, which will be added to his/her account.

Students should request this service two weeks prior to the start of the semester to ensure prompt delivery. If the request is within two weeks of the semester start, Taylor University Online does not guarantee arrival of the textbooks prior to classes starting.

Extensions

Students who are receiving financial aid cannot purchase extensions for classes taken within the semester. By appealing to and receiving permission from the Director of Taylor University Online, a student can receive an extension of up to, but not exceeding, two weeks. Extensions will not be granted for longer than two weeks. Appeals detailing the extenuating circumstances surrounding the request (i.e. health-related issues, death in the family) should be made in writing two weeks prior to the last day of classes.

Freeze Tuition Rate

A student will lock in the tuition rate of the first semester in which classes are taken as an accepted degree-seeking student at Taylor. He/she will not be subject to tuition increases as long as he/she registers for one course per year. If one year has elapsed since the last registration date, the student will be subject to the current tuition rate upon registration unless the student requested to be placed on stop-out status.

Classification of Students

Matriculated students are those students who have fully met all requirements for admission and have enrolled in courses to meet undergraduate degree requirements. Matriculated students are classified as follows:

Class	Total Cumulative Credits
Freshman	0.00–30.99 credits
Sophomore	31.00–60.99 credits
Junior	61.00–94.99 credits
Senior	95+ credits

Graduation

Candidates for graduation must complete and submit an application for graduation at least one semester prior to the anticipated graduation date. The graduation application begins the degree audit process.

The Office of the Registrar will conduct degree audits on behalf of the student. If deficiencies are discovered, the student will be removed as a candidate for completion and participation in Commencement; it is the student’s responsibility to notify his or her family of the change. If a new definitive plan is submitted addressing and correcting the deficiencies, the student may be reinstated as a graduation candidate.

Prior to the senior year, students should check the schedule of classes and registration procedures to determine the deadlines for submitting the application for graduation. Students are solely responsible for ensuring that their academic programs comply with the policies of the University and meet all graduation requirements.

Commencement and Graduation

A student may complete graduation requirements at the end of any of Taylor University instructional terms concluding in December, January, May, June, July, or August. However, the Commencement ceremony is held only in May at the end of the spring term. While attendance at Commencement is optional for the Taylor University Online student, participation is encouraged. Caps and gowns are provided by the university. If a student plans on participating in graduation and has not received instructions about his or her cap and gown by mid-April, he or she should contact the Registrar's Office.

Summer graduation candidates may participate in Commencement if they have no more than 8 credit hours remaining and have submitted a plan to complete these hours by the respective official summer graduation date. December and January graduates are eligible to participate in the ceremony following their official graduation.

Diplomas will be mailed to graduates within three weeks of the conferral date following submission of final grades and completion of the final degree audit by the Office of the Registrar. A graduate must fulfill all financial obligations to the University before he or she receives a diploma.

Major/Minor GPA Calculation

Only courses with a grade of "C-" or better will count in satisfying major/minor credit hour requirements. However, the institutional ("default") methodology for computing the major or minor GPA will be to include all courses that could be counted toward the major/minor, including courses in which a grade below "C-" is earned. This includes courses taken in cognates, tracks, supporting areas, etc.

All major and minor programs will continue to have a 2.3 major and minor GPA requirement. Individual programs may have circumstances unique to the discipline that would suggest that major or minor GPA requirements might be more appropriately computed in a specific manner.

A course that has as its primary content the Old Testament, with special attention given to the law, the prophets and the history of Israel.

BIB210 Biblical Literature II - New Testament, 3 hours

A course that includes a foundation in New Testament study with a focus on Jesus Christ as portrayed in the gospels and epistles. Also included is a series of explorations into the relevancy of Christ to modern life.

BIB213 Survey of Biblical Literature, 4 hours

A survey of the Bible, both Old and New Testaments, designed to help students learn the central ideas and themes of the Bible; to become familiar with its chief persons, places and events; to become aware of the types of biblical literature; and to develop the ability to study the Bible effectively.

BIB216 Historical Books, 3 hours

This course is a study of the books of Joshua through Esther, with emphasis on biblical history, geography, chronology, and spiritual implications.

BIB217 Genesis, 3 hours

A detailed study of the book of “beginnings,” giving attention to its authorship, authenticity, chronology, and spiritual implication.

BIB218 Matthew, 3 hours

A detailed study of the purpose, structure, and theology of Matthew’s gospel, with special emphasis on titles and teachings of Jesus, significant events in His life, and the application of the gospel to the present time.

BIB272 Inductive Study of the Bible, 3 hours

Specific methods are taught to enable the students to understand the propositions of the biblical text, relate those propositions to one another, and ask questions of the text in order to discover what the biblical writers meant to convey through their writings.

BIB311 The Gospel of John, 3 hours >> NEW

An analytical study of the content of the fourth gospel, with special emphasis on the distinctive elements of John’s message.

BIB313 Romans, 3 hours

A detailed study of the book of Romans with special emphasis on Paul’s purpose in writing the book and the development of his argument throughout the book.

BIB320 The Pentateuch, 3 hours

Emphasizes the historical narrative and the content of the Law of God. Special attention is given to the Genesis account of the origin of the cosmos, man, sin, and salvation. The authorship of the Pentateuch is considered.

BIB330 Acts & the Early Church, 3 hours

A historical study with particular attention given to the missionary expansion of the early church, the work of the Holy Spirit and the place of the church in the world.

BIB331 Pauline Epistles, 3 hours

Attention is given to the life, ministry, and writing of Paul. The doctrinal, pastoral, and personal epistles of Paul are studied with reference to their geographical and historical settings, the organization of the Apostolic Church, and the development of Christian doctrine. Careful exegesis is made of selected portions of each epistle.

BIB332 Hebrews & General Epistles, 3 hours

A study of the non-Pauline epistles with attention to their introductory issues (authorship, audience, date, setting, etc.) and theological issues. The authors’ arguments will be analyzed and various interpretations of debated passages will be examined. Critical thinking skills will be employed in studying the letters.

BIB341 The Gospels, 3 hours

This course stresses the life and teaching of Jesus Christ as set forth in the Synoptic Gospels and John. Attention will be given to the literary and theological characteristics of each individual gospel and to the development of gospel criticism. The primary focus, however, is on the words and works of Jesus Christ and their significance for Christians today.

ENT420 Creativity & Concept Development, 3 hours

Sometimes the most difficult part of innovation is knowing where to start or the creation of an idea. As a result of this course, students acquire skills, processes and models for enhancing the creative process and using these, develop a plausible business or ministry concept with real-world applicability.

ENT422 New Venture Planning, 3 hours

Students are exposed to and learn the best practices for starting and growing new ventures (profit and non-profit). Course requirements include the development of a product or service concept and completion of a comprehensive business plan that is worthy of presentation to potential investors/contributors. Characteristics and traits of many contemporary entrepreneurs are studied.

FIN361 Corporate Finance, 3 hours

A study of methods used in the evaluation of financing and investment alternatives and funds management, linking financial theory and practice to a firm's strategic and operational objectives. The course emphasizes basic financial principles and analytical skills including ratio analysis, breakeven analysis and leverage, net present value, internal rate of return, and standard forecasting techniques. The course pays special attention to financial planning and analysis for small businesses; emphasis on funds acquisition, pro-forma statement generation and valuation of small privately held firms.

HRM362 Human Resource Management, 3 hours

A study of the role and functions of the human resource department of an organization with an up-to-date examination of the principles, policies, and problems of labor and management. Topics include employee relations, job analysis, compensation structures, recruitment practices, training, promotion, transfer, and management-union relationships.

HRM462 Organizational Behavior & Development, 3 hours
Organizational behavior is the study and application of knowledge about how and why people, as individuals and as groups, act within organizations. Organizational development is the systematic application of behavioral science knowledge at various levels – group, intergroup, and total organization – to bring about planned change. The goal is to describe, understand, predict, develop, and (to some degree) control human activity at work. This course will prompt the student to develop a cognitive framework for understanding organizational behavior combined with an integration of the Christian faith. Students develop a capacity to analyze organizational behavior situations critically and to give thoughtful answers to situations and case studies.

IAS330 Human Relations in Organizations, 3 hours
The study of human relationships in organizations as they pertain to management theories, processes, and organizational systems and structures. Vertical, lateral and diagonal relationships, planning techniques and strategies as well as techniques of systems intervention and problem solving are studied.

ITB375 International Business, 3 hours
This course will examine the global business environment and its impact on an organization's business strategy. The main objective of the course is to prepare businesspeople to function effectively in the global business environment. Topics include the sociocultural, economic, and political forces facing business, exchange rate determination, hedging, international sourcing and production, wholesaling, retailing, and commercial documentation. Contemporary issues are analyzed, including the rise of Pacific Rim nations, the European Union, and developments in NAFTA.

MGT201 Business Basics Boot Camp, 3 hours
Students learn the foundational concepts of establishing and operating successful ventures in the highly competitive global economy. The business major as well as other disciplines are exposed to key business leadership principles, strategies, technologies and disciplines used in the 21st Century enterprise, through a combination of case analysis, projects and simulation exercises.

MGT343 Legal & Ethical Environment of Business, 3 hours
A course designed to analyze the legal and ethical dilemmas described in case studies of managers in private and corporate businesses. The course studies the nature of the legal system in which society functions, including basic business agreements, business entities, and government regulation. Studies also include philosophical foundations for Christian ethical model applications and the development of ethical dilemma resolution.

MGT352 Management Analysis & Practice, 3 hours
A course designed to acquaint students thoroughly with the theories, principles, and practical applications of management (planning, organizing, staffing, leading, and controlling). Management principles are learned in the context of a work team developing and administering a business project. This course emphasizes business presentations and written reports. Current, real-life situations are emphasized.

MGT393 Practicum, 4 hours
The practicum is an active learning course designed to apply the educational and organizational skills in solving real-life business scenarios. It is completed under the supervision of a manager/supervisor within the organization as well as a faculty supervisor.

MGT423 Strategic Planning and Leadership, 3 hours
Leadership requires vision and change, but bringing change often results in resistance. The course develops an understanding of the complex role of being a leader, and part of leading is planning. The course provides an integrative approach to strategic planning, focusing on formulating, implementing, evaluating, and overseeing the strategic plan. Time is also spent on the components of effective leadership, what a leader can do to develop high performance, and what team members can do to support the leader who wants to initiate such changes.

MGT431 Project Management, 3 hours
This course presents the specific concepts, techniques and tools for managing projects effectively. The role of the project manager as team leader is examined, together with important techniques for planning, scheduling and monitoring successful projects through the project life cycle. Case studies and projects are combined to develop skills needed by project managers in today's environment. In addition, special emphasis is placed on managing technology related projects, leading to the potential for obtaining industry certification in project management.

MGT442 Business Ethics, 3 hours

A course designed to analyze the ethical dilemmas described in case studies of managers in private and corporate businesses. Studies include philosophical foundations for Christian ethical model applications and the development of ethical dilemma resolution. Particular business ethics issues are studied that are realistic and relevant to many business professions.

MKT231 Principles of Marketing, 3 hours

This course emphasizes the foundational concepts of marketing, including the importance of strategic marketing with a Christian worldview, four P's, consumer buying behavior, market research, target markets, and global marketing. The intent is to provide the business major as well as other disciplines a well-rounded, yet firm, launching point to work or further study in the marketing arena. The primary text is a tool and information source establishing the basis for discussion, case studies, and projects.

MKT331 Marketing Management, 3 hours

An examination of effective uses of the tools and approaches for making marketing decisions. Emphasis is given to both the modern marketing system in today's international economy and to the marketing strategies of an organization. Marketing is viewed as a broad technology for influencing behavior, beyond functions like selling and advertising.

MKT380 International Marketing, 3 hours

A study of the factors involved in marketing products and services in other countries. Major geopolitical regions are analyzed and evaluated through practical assignments. Topics include market segmentation analysis, culture, language, values, finance, transportation and distribution networks, international pricing strategies, political structures, exporting organization, promotion and selling practices. Selected research projects and strategic plans provide students with practical applications of key marketing skills.

MKT410 Marketing Research, 3 hours >> NEW

This course is designed to provide learners with a fundamental understanding of the role and methods of marketing research as a means to enhance the marketing strategies and decision-making of any modern organization. Topics include problem identification, proposal and research design, question and survey development, sampling methodology, data analysis, and report presentation, covered in both theory and application.

MKT445 Best Practices in Marketing, 3 hours

The dynamic business environment requires marketing professionals to continually reassess their position relative to changes in the industry. This course is intended for senior marketing majors preparing to embark on a career in marketing. It will acquaint learners with the best thinking and practice currently being pursued by leading organizations. The course modules are designed to instigate critical thinking on case studies, solve problems, and address discussion questions from the reading materials.

MKT460 Consumer Behavior, 3 hours

A course which examines such fundamental areas as consumer decision-making, processes, information processing, external and internal influences and business effects on consumer purchase/choice patterns. An analysis of the psychological, social and economic influences on consumption.

Communication

CAS110 Public Speaking, 3 hours

Concentrates on the development of public speaking skills, including audience analysis, library research, organization, the use of evidence to support a point of view, delivery, and listening.

CAS120 Interpersonal Communication, 3 hours

The study of self-esteem, empathic listening, language, nonverbal behavior, conflict and ethics in interpersonal communication designed to expand students' understanding of themselves and human relationships.

CAS340 Intercultural Communications, 3 hours

This course is designed to explore the processes involved in intercultural communication while applying practical tools to improve intercultural relationships. This course will facilitate discussions of identity in domestic and international intercultural communication, emphasizing values, worldview, and barriers in the communication process. Practical application, in addition to basic theory, will create empathy and cultural-awareness in order to address common assumptions made during intercultural interactions.

CAS382 Family Communication, 3 hours

The study of messages and meanings in contemporary family relationships, including family diversity, spousal relationships, custodial and autonomous child-parent relationships, rules and roles, family stories and rituals, and the religious, legal, and media messages about families.

Computer Science

COS101 Information Technology Concepts >> NEW

This course focuses upon practical understanding and application of computing technology in educational and small business or organizational environments. Specific topics addressed include an overview of operating systems, application software, computing hardware, telecommunications, networking, and information management systems and analysis. In addition, it heavily emphasizes the impact of technology on modern society, and the ethical issues related to use of information and communication systems.

Criminal Justice

JUS100 Introduction to Criminal Justice, 3 hours

A survey of the organization, administration, and function of the three primary components of the American criminal justice system: law enforcement, the courts, and corrections. The course examines the processes and implementation of justice in historical, legal, and contemporary context. An emphasis is placed on both offenses and offenders at each stage of the process.

JUS200 Correctional Chaplaincy, 3 hours >> NEW

An overview of correctional chaplaincy as it functions in jails and prisons. The course will review the history of correctional chaplaincy and how it has evolved within the American criminal justice system, identify the critical premises on which that work rests, and examine each of the critical dimensions of the professional roles a chaplain assumes. Special focus will be placed on the chaplains as pastoral "agents of change," their "ministry of presence," on effective volunteer management, and the development of individualized ministry plans to meet the need of various institutional settings.

JUS230 Restorative Justice, 3 hours

A study of the biblical model of justice, how it can be applied to the current justice system, and what that application implies for the role of the Church. Focus will be on the harm caused by the criminal act to the victims, the community, and the offender and the responsibilities of each in the restorative healing process. Students will also explore effective restorative models and the role the Christian community plays in each. An emphasis will be placed on the theological underpinnings of victimization, God's sense of justice, and the process of forgiveness.

JUS320 American Policing, 3 hours

An introductory course on legal, theoretical, historical, and organizational foundations of law enforcement in the United States with a critical assessment of alternative police policies and practices.

JUS342 Criminology, 3 hours

An introductory course that examines the primary theories social scientists have developed in an attempt to identify the causes of crime as well as the crime typologies that inform social policies and criminal law. Specifically, the course addresses biological, psychological/psychiatric, and social perspectives of crime causation; the criminal patterns that characterize criminal offenses; the relationship between social science theory and crime control practices; and the implications for crime prevention and offender rehabilitation. Central to the course will be an effort to compare and contrast Scripture and Biblical principles with social science theory and public sector response to crime on our society.

JUS345 Corrections, 3 hours

A study of the organization and administration of adult corrections with special emphasis on institutions and incarceration. Correctional theories, policies and practices are considered in an historical and contemporary context.

Education

EDU110 History & Philosophy of Education in America, 3 hours

The goal of this course is to provide students with an understanding of how philosophy and worldviews have impacted education in America. The course emphasizes the influences of the Christian faith on education. Much of this influence has been within the public school system.

EDU115 Teaching about Religion in Public Schools, 3 hours

It is constitutional and necessary for a sound education to teach about religion in public schools. Teaching about religion is not religious indoctrination or religious devotional exercises; it is fair and objective presentation of the history and beliefs of religions and the study of the influence of religion on human society. This course examines the historical, constitutional, and scholarly foundations for such teaching. It explores how teachers can practically incorporate teaching about religion into their classes in a constitutionally and age-appropriate manner.

EDU260 Educational Psychology, 3 hours

The study and application of learning theories and psychological concepts and principles to the teaching-learning process. The teacher's responsibilities to all types of special needs students is explored. Cognitive, affective, and psychomotor aspects of the teaching-learning process are considered. Other topics included are learning styles, state standards, assessments, statistics, tests and measurement, motivation, and classroom management. Includes a field experience lab.

EDU367 Culturally Diverse Teaching, 3 hours

This course focuses on culture and learning diversities. We live in a multicultural world with numerous learning styles and traditions. In order to prepare our students to meet the needs of the 21st century world, educators must understand how to develop and deliver a curriculum that meets the needs of our diverse culture. This course emphasizes the importance of student-centered instruction, which allows all learners to take responsibility for his/her own learning, to inquire, and to question.

EDU371 Literature for Children & Adolescents, 3 hours

The various genres of children's literature are explored through the communication modes of listening, writing, and speaking. Teaching methodologies in language arts are included. Literature dealing with diversity and special needs is included.

SED220 Exceptional Children, 3 hours

This course is designed to prepare the teacher for the challenge of meeting the needs of exceptional children in the regular classroom. A general study of exceptional children focuses on mainstreamed and included special education students. Various topics included are identification of exceptional children, their characteristics and special needs, delivery of services, instructional methods and techniques, and evaluation.

English

ENG110 Expository Writing, 3 hours

Practice in writing clear and effective prose through several expository modes including a formal research paper. Brief review of grammar and mechanics as necessary, with concentration on analytical thinking.

ENG217 Bible as Literature, 3 hours

This course will study the use of literary tools (such as narrative, poetry, proverbs, rhetoric, dialogue, and allusion) in the Bible. The study of these literary qualities, coupled with a study of representative passages in the biblical text, will give students a richer understanding of God's Word. Students will be asked to consider carefully the assumptions they use when studying the Bible from a literary point of view.

ENG240 American Literature, 3 hours

A survey of American literary tradition from its origin to the present.

ENG250 British Literature, 3 hours

Explores British literature from its beginnings to the present, including a brief historical overview of the development of the English language.

Fine Arts

ART172 Art Appreciation, 2-3 hours

This class is a basic historical survey of the visual arts from the western world. We will discover the aesthetic value of visual art forms, how art is a part of our daily life, study the great masters and art periods of the past, discover how the arts affect and are affected by our culture, and expand your appreciation and understanding of the arts as a whole. Overall, I would hope that in the end, you are inspired to further study in this area and to further appreciate the arts as an integral part of a fuller life.

MUS149 Music Appreciation, 2-3 hours
